

PLANNING SERVICES

At Mitchel Hanlon Consulting, we offer professional and creative planning and development solutions. We provide practical answers to complex challenges through a combination of technical expertise and innovative thinking.

Our company offers a broad range of planning services including environmental, economic, strategic and statutory planning across NSW.

Our Aim

We aim to satisfy the needs of our clients and the community by providing a diverse range of practical planning services, including, but not limited to the following:

- Development assessment
- Planning reports
- Statutory planning
- Strategic planning
- Project feasibility analysis
- Urban design
- Property advisory services
- Planning expert witness

- Project management
- Community consultation
- Community economic development planning

Our Reputation

The Mitchel Hanlon Consulting team has forged a reputation for continually delivering practical, balanced and sustainable planning solutions tailored to meet the specific needs of both the client and the community.

Our Strength

The Mitchel Hanlon Consulting planning and development team has a combined industry experience of more than 40 years. Our team has a strong background in local government and the development industry with extensive experience in statutory, strategic and major project planning.

Our sophisticated delivery systems and innovative professional staff will provide you with efficient and quality services that achieve great outcomes.

Contact our Planning Team today!

Email: office@mitchelhanlon.com.au

Phone: 02 6762 4411

Website: www.mitchelhanlon.com.au

